To Whom It May Concern,

I'm writing to recommend Joseph McMahon, who worked with us at InfiniGods—a fast-paced startup in the Web3 gaming space—as a front-end UI developer. Joseph joined our team as a contractor in February 2024 and quickly proved his value, leading us to bring him on full-time in May 2024.

Joseph initially contributed to our small web team, developing front-end interfaces for our Web3 products. From the start, he demonstrated an exceptional ability to build polished and complex UIs, even as priorities and product requirements evolved rapidly. He consistently delivered high-quality work on tight timelines.

As he grew in the role, Joseph expanded beyond UI development to take on more functional aspects of the stack, showing both a hunger to learn and the versatility we value in a startup environment. He required little oversight, proactively identifying what needed to be done and taking initiative to solve problems before they became blockers.

Joseph is detail-oriented, reliable, and always approached his work with a great attitude. He integrated well into our team culture and was a consistent contributor to our delivery goals. Any organization would be lucky to have someone with his blend of technical skill, self-motivation, and collaborative spirit.

I would highly recommend Joseph for any front-end or full-stack development role.

Sincerely,
Matt Jackson
